HALE BROS. & CO.

All who are desirous of obtaining the best values and latest styles (and we believe this applies to all), should visit our House before supplying their wants for the season.

The success of our Sacramento House, and, in fact, the success of all of our California Stores is due to two things, viz.:

FIRST—We have always kept faith with the public, advertising only what we were prepared to carry out. So that our patrons and the community at large know that when we advertise unusual values or particularly attractive prices, that it is not done to create a false impression or mislead the too confident, but that they actually exist in our House.

SECOND—We do at the present time, and always have furnished the best values, quality considered, that have ever been offered on this coast. This statement can be fully verified at any time by a careful examination of any of our Departments. To strangers or those unacquainted with the firm, the question may arise, why HALE BROS. & CO. can offer such superior inducements. These are the reasons: We have five prosperous stores, situated in the most thriving sections of the State. These, together with our large mail orders from the interior, enable us to dispose of a larger quantity of goods than any other firm of retailers on the coast. Two of the firm, with assistants, are constantly in the principal importing and manufacturing centers of the country, ready at all times to take advantage of anything that may prove of profit or interest to our customers. They being supplied with the most powerful Lever of the civilized world, CASH, together with our ability to use large quantities, gives us an advantage possessed by no other House; and realizing that our own interests are best served by studying those of our customers, we at all times give them the benefit.

This season, as never before, we have been able to secure our trade values never before equalled. In no case has quality or merit been sacrificed in order to lower the price, but with our advantages, we are able to offer good, honest goods; in many cases below that usually asked in other articles.

Country Orders Receive Prompt and Careful Attention.

DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN.

CRITICISM UPON THE PRESIDENT'S NOMINATIONS.

Senate Proceedings—More Fighting in the Senate—The Socialists—Russia's Claims.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

United States Senate.

Washington, March 19th.—George Gray, successor to Bayard, was sworn in.

Ingalls' resolution, offered last week, calling for information relating to the alleged illegal occupancy of Oklahoma lands was laid before the Senate.

Ingalls said that since the resolution was laid before the Senate, he had received a letter from the President's secretary, Mr. Clegg, in which he was informed that the President had decided to appoint a committee of five Senators to investigate the matter.

After an executive session, the Senate adjourned.

In the executive session, Senator Sherman offered a resolution providing for the appointment of two Senators to wait upon the President and inform him that unless he had some further communication to make, the Senate was ready to adjourn without delay.

It lies over until tomorrow.

Treaties Ratified.

Washington, March 19th.—The Senate in executive session, today ratified the treaty with the Khedive of Egypt, and the convention relating to the boundary lines between this country and Mexico.

The treaty with the Khedive of Egypt, which Great Britain enjoys by virtue of a treaty of 1876, was ratified by a vote of 72 yeas to 20 nays.

The treaty with Mexico, which Mexico recognizes the principles of international law in the settlement of disputes which may occur between the two countries, was ratified by a vote of 72 yeas to 20 nays.

The Senate asserting itself.

Washington, March 19th.—The Senate today expressed its opinion on the fact that it is a co-ordinate branch of the Government with the Executive Department.

It did this by adjourning for twenty-four hours, without waiting for the nominations that were expected from the White House.

Assistant Secretary Frederick C. Steiwer, who had been nominated within five minutes after the Senate adjourned, and was obliged to carry them back to the Senate chamber.

The office-seekers were thus put back another twenty-four hours.

Senatorial Employment at the Expense of the Government.

Washington, March 19th.—An agreeable and inexpensive form of Senatorial amusement is found at nearly every session of Congress in the appointment of Senators to investigate the affairs of the country.

Special committees, as the case may be, to undertake some particular branch of the investigation that will give the committee an opportunity to conduct its work at the expense of the Government during the heated term, while a number of Senators are sitting in the recess of Congress.

This permission means that sessions of these committees will be held at the expense of the Government, while the members can enjoy the attractions of the fashionable season at the expense of the Government.

Today three resolutions were introduced in the Senate to grant certain committees authority to sit during the recess.

The first resolution, introduced by Senator Palmer, authorizing the committee on Fish and Fisheries to sit during the recess, and investigate the alleged mismanagement of the fisheries in the great lakes.

This resolution was referred to the Committee on Contingent Expenses, which has not yet reported.

The second resolution, introduced by Senator Duff, authorizing the committee on the Atlantic coast, to sit during the recess, and investigate the alleged mismanagement of the fisheries in the great lakes.

This resolution was referred to the Committee on Contingent Expenses, which has not yet reported.

The third resolution, introduced by Senator Duff, authorizing the committee on the Atlantic coast, to sit during the recess, and investigate the alleged mismanagement of the fisheries in the great lakes.

This resolution was referred to the Committee on Contingent Expenses, which has not yet reported.

The general moral comfortable.

New York, March 19th.—After a visit to General Grant to-night his physician said: "The general is feeling much better."

The general is feeling much better, and is able to sit up in bed, and to eat and drink.

The general is feeling much better, and is able to sit up in bed, and to eat and drink.

The general is feeling much better, and is able to sit up in bed, and to eat and drink.

labor question in all its various ramifications. The suggestion meets the approval of Secretary Lammie.

In the Court-martial to-day General Hazen's friends manifested their sympathy for him, and in the evening, when the Court-martial was held, they were seen sitting with baskets and bouquets of choice flowers.

The President has recognized Felipe A. Labadie as Consul of the United States of Mexico at Nogales, Arizona, and R. W. DeLeon as Consul at Port Townsend, W. T.

The President's Nominations Criticized.

New York, March 19th.—The Tribune (Rep.) says: "The nominations made by the President will confirm the belief that this Administration intends to look after the interests of the people."

The Tribune says: "The President has nominated First Assistant Postmaster-General, who was one of the lawyers sent to Ireland in 1876 by Tilden."

Hay is also a staunch friend of Randall, which will be of interest to Kentucky free-traders, inasmuch as the First Assistant Postmaster-General looks like the appointment of over four thousand Postmasters.

Durham, the nominee for First Controller of the Treasury, appears to be an average man.

When the Congress is convened, the resumption of specie payments, favored the salary grab, wanted depreciated greenbacks to be redeemed, and the resumption of specie payments, favored the salary grab.

He opposed giving the preference and honors to discharged Union soldiers and sailors in the filling of military offices.

What "is" covered up under these nominations no one is yet able to find out.

Philadelphia, March 19th.—The Press, a Republican organ, says: "The appointments of the President, far as we are advised, are of an excellent character."

The selection of Malcolm Hay deserves the warmest commendation. The postmaster-general is a man of the highest character, robust sense and decided ability.

He is not only personally acquainted with the leading financiers and business men of his party, but he is also a man of the highest character, robust sense and decided ability.
